Ms. Biggs has practiced management-side employment law since 1988. She chaired Holland & Hart's employment practice group for 5 years, from 1998 through 2003. She defends employers in employment related litigation and advises employers on a variety of employment law topics, such as complying with the Americans with Disabilities Act and Family and Medical Leave Act, compliance with wage and hour laws, drafting and enforcing covenants not to compete and confidentiality agreements, drafting employee handbooks and policies, conducting internal investigations, implementing drug testing programs, developing internal dispute resolution systems, and reducing the risks of litigation. She has represented a wide variety of employers in the litigation and mediation of wage and hour disputes, including collective (class) actions under the Fair Labor Standards Act. She also has extensive experience on how to comply with employment laws that differ from one jurisdiction to another both in the U.S. and outside the U.S.
