Welcome Letter

December 4, 2002

Dear Summit 2002 Participant:

On behalf of the David Eccles School of Business and Technology to Market (T2M) and its sponsors—we welcome you to the second annual Summit Conference.

Summit 2002 promises to be a stimulating, enlightening experience, one that will provide rich opportunities to learn about critical new corporate reforms and develop responsive strategies. We will explore the sweeping new changes aimed at reducing corporate fraud and abuse. Corporate executives, as well as experts from the legal, accounting and insurance professions will share best practices and concrete steps to assist companies with managing liability, including effective corporate governance and compliance programs. The topic could not be more timely.

We invite your active participation in the Conference's wide-ranging speaker and panel discussions, and encourage you to take advantage of its plentiful networking opportunities.

Again, welcome, and thank you for your involvement in Summit 2002.

Sincerely,

Now More Than Ever: The Importance of Building, and Relying Upon, A Strong Independent Board of Directors

Moderator: Jim Wilson,
Former Chairman and CEO,
Cordant Technologies, Inc.

Mr. Wilson joined Cordant Technologies as Chief Financial Officer in 1989 and was named Chief Executive Officer in 1993. Cordant, a $2.5 billion manufacturer of jet aircraft engine components, high performance fastening systems and Thiokol solid rocket motors, was acquired by Alcoa Inc. in May 2000. Mr. Wilson retired at the time of the acquisition.

Prior to joining Cordant he held senior financial management positions with several companies including Circuit City Stores and Textron Inc.

Kipp Bedard,
Vice President of Corporate Affairs, Micron Technology, Inc.

Micron Technology, Inc., is a Fortune 500 company and one of the world's leading manufacturers of superior-quality memory semiconductors. Micron's DRAM, SRAM, TCAM, and Flash components are used in today's most advanced computing, networking, and communications products, including computers, workstations, servers, cell phones, wireless devices, digital cameras, and gaming systems. Micron also provides CMOS image sensor solutions to the handset camera, digital still camera, and PC video camera markets.

Brad Rich, Executive Vice President,
SkyWest Airlines

SkyWest Airlines was founded in 1972 by Ralph Atkin, and in 1987 SkyWest Airlines became one of four Delta Connection carriers and continues its affiliation with Delta at hubs in Salt Lake City and Dallas/Fort Worth with more than 400 daily flights.

On October 1, 1997, SkyWest began its affiliation with United Airlines. SkyWest is now the primary United Express carrier up and down the West Coast, providing more than 600 daily departures and serving United hubs at Los Angeles, Seattle/Tacoma, Portland, San Francisco, and Denver.

In February of 2002, SkyWest was named Regional Airline of the Year by Air Transport World. The airline was Professional Pilot Magazine's Top Regional Airline of the Year in April of 2000. On July 9, 2000, Aviation Week & Space Technology named SkyWest the Best Managed Regional Airline in the world. SkyWest Airlines started small, but has grown into a top Regional carrier and one of the most financially sound airlines in the industry.

Greg Warnock,
Managing Partner,
vSpring Partners

Greg brings 10 years and 18 companies worth of successful private equity investing to vSpring. With companies ranging from biotechnology to software, Greg has the broad experience and network required for success in a region like the Inter-mountain West. He has also been a consultant and teacher to entrepreneurs over the years both individually and through organizations like the Wayne Brown Institute where he is on the Board of Trustees and the Utah Angels where he is a member. His easy going and soft-spoken demeanor put people around him at ease. He has a reputation of asking entrepreneurs tough questions that, when answered, bring clarity to the drivers, risks and opportunities of a new venture. Greg founded vSpring because he felt a top team would be able to cultivate and nurture many of the companies in the region that start but don't get the professional attention they need to lead their markets and bring the benefits of leadership back to the region.

T2M Activities and Services include:

- Conferences. Attendees benefit from a series of networking and educational seminars.
- Free Business Plan Mentoring. Five experienced mentoring teams evaluate and mentor business plans.
- Deal/Technology Forum. Entrepreneurs present promising technologies and businesses to investors in a university setting.
- Financial Resources/Professional Services. T2M Sponsors, Associate Sponsors and Partners provide a broad range of financial resources and professional services.
