Alex Grande assists clients with disputes involving breach of contract, equity claims, employment discrimination, and a range of business torts.

As a member of Boise's commercial litigation group, and through her experience in a broad array of disputes, Alex helps clients navigate all stages of the dispute resolution process, representing clients in both state and federal litigation as well as mediation and arbitration.

Alex also represents clients in various labor and employment related disputes. She has represented employers in court and before state and federal agencies to resolve claims of discrimination, retaliation, and wrongful discharge.

Prior to joining Holland & Hart, Alex served as an extern law clerk to the Hon. Ronald E. Bush, Magistrate Judge, U.S. District Court in Boise.
