Jill Van Noord counsels clients on environmental compliance, permitting and enforcement matters, with a focus on air quality related matters.

She routinely represents mining, oil and gas, renewable energy, construction, and other companies on compliance and permitting with federal and state agencies, including the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment, New Mexico Environment Department, Wyoming Department of Environmental Quality, and the U.S. EPA.

Jill Van Noord's experience working for various stakeholders in the natural resources arena, including industry, public interest advocacy groups, and regulators, allows her to bring a valuable perspective to counseling clients. Through her current role as a member of the Mined Land Reclamation Board, Jill has first-hand experience with policy making and resolving permit violations.

Prior to joining Holland & Hart, Jill served as a judicial law clerk for the Honorable Maria E. Berkenkotter of the Colorado District Court, 20th Judicial District.

EXPERIENCE

Jill advises clients on environmental compliance and enforcement matters, including:

- Clean Air Act issues affecting the energy industry, including development and compliance with federal New Source Performance Standards (NSPS), National Emission Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants (NESHAP), Reasonably Available Control Technologies (RACT), and Maximum Achievable Control Technology (MACT) standards
- Responding to information requests, including under section 114 of the Clean Air Act, section 308 of the Clean Water Act, and section 104(e) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act (CERCLA)
- Compliance with state and federal air quality regulations, including implementation of Colorado's oil and gas regulations and other climate change-related regulations

- Project development and permitting strategies under various federal and state minor and major source programs, including the Clean Air Act Title V and Prevention of Significant Deterioration (PSD) programs
- Development of federal and state regulations through hearings and written comments
- Negotiating settlements of violations
