David advises clients on matters focusing on project development and financings within the energy and infrastructure industry.

He has represented clients on a range of corporate matters, with a focus on the renewable energy industry. David has experience with drafting and negotiating financing and project documents and representing borrowers, lenders, developers, investors, and other market participants in project development, finance (including tax equity investment structures), joint ventures, and mergers and acquisitions. He has also practiced internationally in Ecuador, giving him valuable cross-border experience.

Prior to joining Holland & Hart, David worked in the Global Project group at Baker Botts in the Washington, D.C. office and served as a Law Clerk for the Honorable Brian F. Holeman of the Superior Court of the District of Columbia.
