Ryan counsels clients on the protection and enforcement of intellectual property rights and resolving complex business disputes.

Ryan guides and represents clients in federal and state courts throughout the United States along the many stages of intellectual property litigation, including matters involving patents, trademarks, copyrights, and trade secrets. He also has extensive experience with general commercial litigation matters, including claims for breach of contract, breach of fiduciary duty, conversion, and various other state and federal law claims. Prior to focusing his practice on IP and commercial litigation, Ryan assisted in preparing and prosecuting patent applications related to the mechanical, electrical, and chemical engineering arts.

Prior to joining Holland & Hart, Ryan was an associate at an Am Law 200 firm.
