Matthew provides effective representation to commercial and individual clients, efficiently guiding them through the complex litigation process.

He counsels businesses operating in a wide range of industries – including mining, real estate, banks, and developers. Matthew has extensive experience that extends to representing clients in Nevada and California state and federal courts. Clients frequently turn to him for advice resolving contract disputes, business tort actions, and property disputes.

Matthew works with clients to avoid litigation when possible, pursuing dispute resolution through mediation. He frequently represents business owners, corporate clients, individuals, and business entities with operations at a local, national, and international level.

Matthew pursues a solution-oriented approach, providing assertive representation in court, arbitration, or during settlement negotiations.

Before joining the firm, Matthew was a judicial law clerk for the Honorable Justice Cliff Young of the Nevada Supreme Court.
