Sherilyn Olsen helps clients resolve problems with loans in default.

Her practice includes advising lenders and borrowers regarding loan workouts and restructuring, collection procedures, and bankruptcy law and procedure. She also assists lenders in seeking the appointment of a receiver to protect assets and/or to operate a business's pending foreclosure.

Sherilyn negotiates and drafts loan modification documents and pursues repayment of loans in default. In bankruptcy court, she prosecutes and defends relief from stay motions, cash collateral motions, claim objections, motions to dismiss, preference and fraudulent transfer actions, lien avoidance actions, and nondischargeability claims.

In state and federal courts, Sherilyn represents clients throughout the litigation process including managing discovery; defending and taking fact and expert depositions; drafting and arguing motions for summary judgment; pursuing and defending motions for temporary restraining orders and preliminary injunctions; chairing trials; and pursuing collection of judgments.
