Sydney delivers courtroom-tested advocacy for fiduciaries, trustees, businesses, and creditors facing complex litigation and regulatory challenges.

Sydney is a trial and appellate lawyer with extensive experience in state, federal, and bankruptcy courts. Her practice focuses on high-stakes commercial litigation and creditor representation, with particular depth in complex business disputes in state, federal, and bankruptcy courts, regulatory compliance matters, and trust, estate, and probate litigation. She represents businesses in complex disputes involving fraud, embezzlement, contract breaches, and business torts. Sydney aggressively pursues maximum recovery for her creditor clients, tracking insolvent debtors from state and federal courts into bankruptcy proceedings wherever necessary. Her practice regularly spans multiple jurisdictions and evolves with her clients' needs, encompassing both civil litigation and related administrative or regulatory actions, including matters before state licensing boards and insurance divisions.

Sydney's trial experience spans trying cases to successful verdicts, shielding clients from multi-million dollar judgments, and obtaining injunctive relief, both against opposing parties in litigation and before regulatory boards. Sydney skillfully defends her clients' hard-won trial court victories at the appellate level, appearing before both the Nevada Supreme Court and the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit in written briefing and oral argument.
