

Rebecca Taylor

Of Counsel

rtaylor@hollandhart.com

Rebecca brings extensive experience in advising businesses and individuals on emerging state and local tax and international tax matters.

Rebecca handles a broad range of tax matters in the areas of state and local tax (SALT) and international tax issues. She helps clients navigate complex tax laws and regimes across multiple jurisdictions, including income, franchise, sales and use, VAT, property, gross receipts, and other business/transaction taxes.

Rebecca represents clients in audits, administrative appeals, and litigation before the IRS and state tax authorities and courts, offering strategic counsel tailored to each client's needs. She also provides proactive guidance on tax planning, compliance, and legislative developments that may impact her clients' operations across jurisdictions. Additionally, she assists clients with identifying and securing available tax credits/exemptions and incentive programs that can benefit new and expanding businesses.

With a detail-oriented and solution-driven approach, Rebecca partners with clients across various industries—including technology, retail, manufacturing, agriculture, and financial services—to identify risks, minimize liabilities, and to help achieve favorable outcomes. Whether resolving multi-state tax controversies or advising on the tax implications of corporate transactions, Rebecca brings clarity and confidence to the ever-evolving tax landscape.

PRACTICES

State and Local Tax
Federal Income Taxation
Tax
Tax Controversy and Litigation
Tax-Exempt and Nonprofit Organizations

EDUCATION

Brigham Young University, J. Reuben
Clark Law School, J.D., 2019

University of Utah, David Eccles School of Business, B.S. Accounting, 2006

BAR ADMISSIONS

Idaho
Utah