Adrienne assists high net worth individuals and families navigate complex tax and estate planning matters.

Adrienne helps clients understand the importance of proactive planning to preserve and protect private wealth. She provides nuanced insight on managing and minimizing tax liability, including planned giving, gift taxation, and establishing charitable trusts. She works closely with clients to identify wealth transfer goals and develop tailored estate plans designed to minimize tax exposure. She also counsels clients on estate and trust administration matters, including trustee succession issues and distributions to beneficiaries.

Prior to joining Holland & Hart, Adrienne served as Vice President of Legal Product with SixFifty at Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati where she focused on leveraging technology to serve her clients efficiently and was an associate at two full-service law firms in Salt Lake City and Washington, DC.
