Troy develops strategic engagement plans to advance clients' legislative and regulatory priorities.

Troy leverages trusted relationships with bipartisan federal government stakeholders to help clients navigate legislative and regulatory challenges. He helps clients assess the opportunities and risks of federal engagement and develops short- and long-term tactics and strategies—including lobbying, public relations, and political intelligence—aligned with their business interests.

Clients benefit from the combination of his public sector expertise from high-level roles in Congress (serving two US Senators) and the executive branch (appointee in two presidential administrations) and his private sector experience advocating for industry interests.

Troy served as the Associate Administrator for the Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Relations as the US Environmental Protection Agency and as Senior Advisor to the Administrator for External Affairs for External Affairs. In these appointed roles, he led EPA's bipartisan negotiations with Congress, managed the confirmation process for EPA nominees, and liaised with state governors.

Troy also brings a deep understanding of energy industry priorities and challenges, particularly concerning environmental and climate change regulation, from his work as Vice President, Government Affairs for the American Exploration & Production Council; as Manager, Government Affairs for Hess Corporation and Hess PAC; and as Director, Communications and External Affairs with BP America.

EXPERIENCE

Government Affairs

As a non-lawyer government affairs professional and lobbyist, Troy offers clients a full range of federal government affairs services including:

- Federal legislative and regulatory affairs
- Support for executive branch and Congressional oversight
- Congressional hearing preparation
- Coordination between key legislative personnel and executive branch officials on cross-disciplinary policy issues
- Federal and state statutory and regulatory programs to address

environmental issues, climate change, and energy policy

- Political intelligence services: tracking legislative developments and reporting on areas of interest to clients
- Developing comprehensive legislative and public relations strategies
- Active participation in industry trade associations to stay on the cutting edge of clients' legislative and regulatory issues
- Establishing and coordinating ad hoc coalitions comprised of members representing diverse interest groups
- Developing and growing political action committees (PAC)
