Trent's practice focuses on state and local taxation, including matters involving sales and use tax, property tax, telecommunications tax, income tax, and severance tax.

Trent assists clients in state and local tax matters with an emphasis on tax planning and various aspects of dispute resolution, including audit defense, appeals, and tax litigation. He helps resolve tax disputes by developing sustainable solutions through direct negotiations with taxing authorities, advocating for legislative reforms, and representing clients through both administrative channels and the court systems.

Prior to joining Holland & Hart, Trent was a tax manager at KPMG where he advised multinational businesses on state and local tax matters and an associate with Hale & Wood, PLLC.
