

Lillian Gaines Holbrook

Associate

555 17th Street, Suite 3200, Denver, CO 80202

P 303.295.8242

lgholbrook@hollandhart.com

Lillian provides strategic counsel to clients navigating complex commercial and regulatory disputes.

PRACTICES

Business Litigation

EDUCATION

Georgetown University Law Center, J.D., 2021

Georgetown Journal of Legal Ethics,
Senior Notes Editor
CALI Award for Best Exam in Employment Discrimination

Georgetown University, B.A., 2018
magna cum laude
Undergraduate Law Review, Editor-in-Chief

BAR ADMISSIONS

Colorado
New York

Lillian represents clients in federal and state courts, handling all phases of litigation, including drafting dispositive motions, managing large-scale discovery, preparing witnesses, and contributing to trial advocacy. Her practice spans a wide range of commercial, employment and regulatory matters.

Drawing on her federal clerkship experience with Judge Scott T. Varholak of the US District Court for the District of Colorado, Lillian brings a valuable perspective to case strategy and motion practice. She maintains an active pro bono practice focused on immigration and civil rights matters.

Prior to her clerkship, Lillian was an associate at Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP in New York, where she gained significant experience working on trial teams handling complex bench and jury trials. During law school, she served as a legal intern with the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund and at the New York State Attorney General's Office.

PUBLICATIONS

"No Sanctuary for Judges: When Legal Ethics Conflict with Federal Law,"
The Georgetown Journal of Legal Ethics, 2020