Heather offers pragmatic guidance to clients through the many complex stages of mergers and acquisitions and financial matters.

Heather advises public and privately held companies on complex mergers and acquisitions, including Hart-Scott-Rodino pre-merger notification filings, private equity investments and capital markets transactions. She is known for balancing sharp deal execution with practical, business-first judgment that helps clients move quickly while still managing risk in competitive transactions.

She supports clients in high-value matters, coordinating internal and external teams to ensure seamless execution. She is passionate about guiding clients through high-stakes deals by leveraging her experience across M&A, public debt offerings, secured lending, and high-volume commercial agreements to address the complex documentation and financing demands of transformative transactions.

Prior to joining Holland & Hart, she was a corporate finance associate with Stinson LLP.
