

Jeffrey Pope

Partner
307.778.4223
Cheyenne
jspope@hollandhart.com

How Data Center Projects Can Navigate Wyo. Siting Process

Insight — September 22, 2026

In a Law360 Expert Analysis, Holland & Hart partner Jeff Pope examines Wyoming's Industrial Siting Act as an unlikely model for states struggling to manage surging electricity demand from data centers, AI infrastructure and other large industrial users.

As jurisdictions nationwide increasingly turn to moratoria and temporary restrictions, Jeff argues that Wyoming offers a counterintuitive lesson: more process, not less, may be the answer to managing the energy and technology boom—pairing rigorous, comprehensive review with the predictability developers need.

Read the full article on Law360 here (subscription).

Click here to download a PDF: "How Data Center Projects Can Navigate Wyo. Siting Process"

Subscribe to get our Insights delivered to your inbox.

This publication is designed to provide general information on pertinent legal topics. The statements made are provided for educational purposes only. They do not constitute legal or financial advice nor do they necessarily reflect the views of Holland & Hart LLP or any of its attorneys other than the author(s). This publication is not intended to create an attorney-client relationship between you and Holland & Hart LLP. Substantive changes in the law subsequent to the date of this publication might affect the analysis or commentary. Similarly, the analysis may differ depending on the jurisdiction or circumstances. If you have specific questions as to the application of the law to your activities, you should seek the advice of your legal counsel.